EXERCISES: FINDING THE RIGHT DATABASES

1. Think about the possible disciplines your research could involve. List the Subject Guides you could use to find databases to search. http://dal.ca.libguides.com

2. Visit one or more of the Subject Guides. Look for pages named “Databases,” “Key databases,” “Find articles,” or “Finding articles.” Make a list of some of the databases that might be applicable to your research.

3. Browse the following sites and make a list of possible sources you could use to find primary sources and government information for your research:
   - Primary Sources page of the History Subject Guide: http://dal.ca.libguides.com/history/primary_sources
   - Primary sources page of the English Subject Guide: http://dal.ca.libguides.com/English/primarysources
   - Government Information Subject Guide: http://dal.ca.libguides.com/govdocs
